Weblog

ASSIGNMENT SHEET 12 SEPT. 2011

You must maintain a weblog dedicated to this class, which you will use for posting images, articles, and links to websites that interest you.

The choice of software/service is yours, although you should be prepared to explain your decision (just as you should be prepared to explain every decision you make for this course). You should probably use a hosted blogging service like Posterous, Tumblr, or WordPress.com.

Cultivate the habit of evaluating websites with a designer's eye. Over the course of the semester, save links to websites, articles, or other resources that interest you – good, bad, or neither. Add at least two items a week. We will share and discuss these items on a regular basis.

DELIVERABLES. One weblog and at least two posts/week (average).

DUE: reviewed through the length of the semester.
